INTRODUCTION

This appendix to the budget contains two types of statements in accordance with the provisions of section 204 of the Budget and Accounting Act, 1921, as amended (31 U. S. C. 581): (a) Information as to obligations (or accrued expenditures in the case of various revolving funds) classified according to the uniform object categories, and (b) information as to personal services, broken down by grade and title. Schedules are shown in this appendix in the same order as in the budget.

The object schedules are identical with those printed in the budget. An explanatory illustration of the personal services portion of the object schedule and of the personal services detail is shown below (see also the explanatory illustration of the schedule of obligations by objects which appears on page 4 of the budget).

The first entry here is the total number of permanent positions (both departmental and field) shown in the detail of personal services below.

Many schedules also include an entry "Full-time equivalent of all other positions" covering positions of a part-time nature (less than a full workday or workweek), temporary full-time positions for work of short duration (including seasonal jobs), and positions in which employment is on an occasional ("when actually employed") basis. Because the total number of such positions for all parts of the year added together would not be particularly significant, the figures are not included in the detail of personal services, but are stated here on the basis of the full-time equivalent—that is, the number of hours employment in such positions is divided by the regular number of hours which apply to a full-time job for the year, and the resulting figure is the full-time equivalent of "other positions."

The last entry is the average paid employment for the year as a whole, comprising the sum of permanent, temporary, and part-time employment. In order that the figure can be compared to the amounts required, it includes the full-time equivalent of paid leave (regular and on termination of employment). However, in order to avoid duplication, the figures for each agency exclude employees on detail from another agency, even where the detail is on a reimbursable basis. This entry is equal to the sum of the entries for average number of permanent positions (both departmental and field) shown in the detail of personal services, plus the full-time equivalent of all other positions shown above.

"Departmental" (central office) and "Field" employment are shown in two separate sections of the schedule.

Titles are shown for positions with a base rate of $5,060 or above.

Salaries are reported at the rate effective for the greater part of the year. Employees generally are entitled to within-grade salary advancements effective with the first pay period after 12 or 18 months of service. The difference between the rate shown and the exact rate for the year is shown in the "Lapse" line.

This line represents the difference between the annual rates for the position and the base pay actually earned for the 52 weeks. It covers savings due to vacancies, leave without pay, etc., offset in part by terminal leave payments.

This total indicates the number of full-time positions of permanent or indefinite duration, which are occupied or to be occupied at any time during the year. They include positions which may be filled by persons with temporary appointments, if the positions themselves are of a continuing nature. The number of positions is nearly always larger than the number of employees at any one time, due to delays in filling vacancies, etc.

Where employees are stationed in foreign countries, data are shown separately for those paid at U. S. rates and those paid at local rates. "U. S. rates" are those regularly established for employees hired in the United States and stationed abroad; other rates are "local rates."

Entries under this heading represent payments for personal services to persons who are not regularly reported as Government employees and payments to other agencies for reimbursable details. The other agency involved includes employees on reimbursable detail in its position schedule in the usual manner.
